

Carbon Transformation: A World from Air

Twelve, the carbon transformation company, will share updates on their technology and products. Twelve is on a mission to create a fossil-free future by making materials and fuels from air, not oil. Our carbon transformation technology turns CO<sub>2</sub>, water and renewable electricity into the building blocks for thousands of products, from apparel to jet fuel. We partner with the world's biggest brands like Procter & Gamble and Mercedes-Benz to eliminate emissions from their products and supply chains. By making chemicals, materials, and fuels from CO<sub>2</sub>, we can make a world of things from air.